1. Objective:

The objective of this policy is to establish the requirements for classifying personal data in a manner that ensures efficient handling of this data and consequently improves day-to-day operations at Bajaj Auto Limited.

2. Overview

BAL has created this policy to classify personal data (including data held in electronic, physical copies, structured and unstructured data) within the organization based on the sensitivity of the data and the security measures that need to be implemented to protect the confidentiality of the data processed.

Please note that for the purpose of this policy, the use of “data” and “information” shall be considered synonymous and has been used interchangeably. For the purpose of this policy, the term personal data refers to customer personal data.

3. Scope

This policy applies to all activities, processes, systems, and personnel involved in the processing of customer personal data related to connected electric vehicles to ensure compliance with applicable data privacy/protection regulation in all personal data processing activities across Bangladesh, Brazil, Colombia, Greece, Indonesia, Kenya, Mexico, Nepal, Philippines, Portugal, Saudi Arabia, Spain, Sri Lanka, Thailand, Turkey, UAE.

Please refer Appendix B for country specific regulation. This appendix needs to be monitored every six months and any changes to the respective country specific privacy related regulation should be incorporated.

4. Policy

a. Classification scheme

The below classification scheme defines the various levels of personal data based on its sensitivity. Each level comes with specific handling, security, and access controls to ensure that data is adequately protected according to its risk.

Level	Classification type	Definition	Sensitivity
L1	Public	Public data corresponds to data that is freely accessible to the public.	No impact
L2	Internal	Information intended for internal use only. Disclosure of this data poses minimal risk but should be restricted to authorized personnel within the organization.	Low

Level	Classification type	Definition	Sensitivity
		By default, all unclassified information of BAL shall be internal.
L3	Confidential	Confidential data corresponds to information that requires a degree of protection due to its sensitive nature, but the potential harm resulting from its unauthorized disclosure may be limited or moderate.	Medium
L4	Highly Confidential/Restricted	Information shall be classified as restricted if that information has the potential to adversely impact on BAL's legal or regulatory obligations or on its financial status, customers, or stake holders when disclosed to unauthorized individuals/parties.	High

b. Examples

The following list provides indicative examples of personal data categorized according to their levels of sensitivity, intended to help better understand the classification scheme.

i. Public:

- Customer reviews or testimonials on public platforms like the company website or social media
- Contact information for a dealership's customer service department (e.g., public email)
- Non-sensitive information available through public-facing marketing campaigns or brochures
- Dealer names and locations publicly available on the company website or advertising materials
- Social media posts by customers that mention the brand or vehicle model.

ii. Internal:

- Vendors' contact information (e.g., work phone numbers, business email addresses for routine communications)
- Vehicle inventory data that includes vehicle models and numbers (without sensitive details)
- Basic customer order history (e.g., vehicles purchased, purchase date) used for internal sales and support functions.
- Demographic information such as general age range or location (city or region) for marketing segmentation.

iii. Confidential:

- Customer payment or billing information (credit card details, payment method)
- Vehicle service history (e.g., diagnostic reports, service dates, and issues for customer)
- Vehicle warranty or service records associated with individual customers.
- Insurance details provided by customers (e.g., for warranties or vehicle financing)

iv. Highly Confidential/Restricted:

- Customers: name, mobile number, Mailing address, billing address, VIN, Govt. ID, Passport details, Date of birth
- Social Security Number (SSN) or other government-issued IDs, if collected for financing or legal purposes
- Customer's full financial information (e.g., bank account details, financing terms, loan data).

5. Review Frequency

This document is subject to annual review or earlier if there are changes in the business environment or applicable data privacy/protection regulations. Any updates to this document will be recorded at the beginning of the document.
